Born and raised in Castro Valley, San Francisco State University alumnus and Academy Award winner Jonas Rivera always loved films and had dreamed of becoming an animator since he was young. Originally, Rivera’s inspiration came from iconic movies, such as “Star Wars” and Disney classics. But it was an early Pixar short film — which he first encountered in an SF State class — that inspired Rivera to pick up the phone and call Pixar out of the blue.

“I had just seen [Pixar Chief Creative Officer] John Lasseter’s ‘Luxo Jr.’ in Gregg Rickman’s ‘History of Animation’ class, and in [the film] I saw the potential of computer animation,” Rivera recalled in a 2009 SF State Magazine interview. “It was like a beacon from the future.”

That beacon guided him to his dream job: When he called Pixar, the response was, “Can you come in tomorrow?”

Rivera began working as a production office intern on the company’s first feature film, “Toy Story.” Since then, Rivera has moved through most jobs within Pixar’s production cycle, from intern to producer, giving him a front row seat for the growth of the studio into the animation titan it is today. He has worked on almost every Pixar film to date, including “A Bug’s Life,” “Toy Story 2” and “Monsters, Inc.”

Rivera was the production manager on Pixar’s Golden Globe-winning animated feature “Cars.” His first credit as producer was on Pixar’s 2009 movie “Up,” for which he earned a Producer of the Year in Animated Features award from the Producers Guild of America and a nomination for Best Picture at the 2010 Academy Awards.

At the 88th Annual Academy Award ceremony in 2016, Pixar’s feature film “Inside Out” won the Oscar for Best Animated Feature Film. Rivera was the first Pixar producer to win an Oscar, accepting the award with the film’s director, Peter Docter.

Rivera lives in the East Bay with his wife and three children, continuing to work with Pixar on animated films inspired by his own childhood and his kids.
PRESIDENT’S MEDAL RECIPIENT

THE HONORABLE GEORGE P. SHULTZ

Born in New York City, George P. Shultz was raised in Englewood, New Jersey. He earned a bachelor’s degree in economics from Princeton University and a Ph.D. in industrial economics from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Shultz served on active duty in the U.S. Marine Corps in the Pacific theater during World War II, attaining the rank of captain. After the war, he continued his academic career at MIT, teaching economics and management from 1948 to 1957. His first experience in government was as a senior staff economist on President Eisenhower’s Council of Economic Advisers in 1955.

From 1962 to 1968, Shultz was dean of the University of Chicago Graduate School of Business. He returned to government in 1969 when President Richard Nixon appointed him Secretary of Labor. From 1970 to 1972, he served as the first director of the Office of Management and Budget, and he served as Secretary of the Treasury from 1972 to 1974. During this time, Shultz was chair-man of the Council on Economic Policy and negotiated a series of trade protocols on behalf of the United States.

From 1974 to 1982, Shultz was president of Bechtel Group Inc. While at Bechtel, he maintained close ties with the academic world by joining the faculty of Stanford University’s Graduate School of Business.

In 1982, Shultz was named Secretary of State by President Ronald Reagan. In this capacity, he played a key role in implementing a foreign policy that led to the successful conclusion of the Cold War. In 1989, he was awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom, the nation’s highest civilian honor.

Upon leaving office, Shultz returned to the Bechtel Group as a director and senior counselor. In 2001, he was named the Thomas W. and Susan B. Ford Distinguished Fellow at the Hoover Institution, Stanford University.

Shultz has received many awards for his achievements and contributions to the nation including the Koret Prize in 1996, the Eisenhower Medal for Leadership and Service in 2001, the Truman Medal for Economic Policy in 2007 and the Economic Club of New York Award for Leadership Excellence in 2011.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

CHARLOTTE MAILLIARD SHULTZ
Doctor of Fine Arts

Charlotte Mailliard Shultz was born in Kilgore, Texas. She attended the University of Arkansas-Fayetteville and received a degree in fashion design, marketing and merchandising. Shultz later moved to San Francisco, where her presence began to significantly benefit the city and state.

Shultz has served as chief of protocol for the city and county of San Francisco for nine mayors and now serves in that capacity for Mayor Edwin M. Lee. Called the “city’s premier party giver” by The San Francisco Chronicle, Shultz brought back the city’s Black and White Ball, organized the 50th anniversary celebration of the Golden Gate Bridge and has welcomed distinguished visitors such as Pope John Paul II and members of the British royal family. In 2004, Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger appointed her as chief of protocol for the state of California. She now serves as chief of protocol for Gov. Jerry Brown.

Shultz also serves on the San Francisco War Memorial Board of Trustees and is a member of the boards of the San Francisco Opera, San Francisco Symphony, San Francisco Ballet, San Francisco Museum of Modern Art and Commonwealth Club of California. She served as chair of the building committee of the new San Francisco Public Library and co-chair of the Committee to Restore the San Francisco Opera House and San Francisco City Hall. Visitors to City Hall can walk up the Charlotte Mailliard Shultz Staircase, which was named in honor of her tireless efforts to promote the city.

Shultz’s contributions have been recognized through numerous awards including the State of California Woman of the Year Award in 1996 and 2000, the Eleanor Roosevelt Humanitarian Award for Lifetime Achievement from the United Nations Association of San Francisco, the Commonwealth Club’s Distinguished Citizen Award and the Woodrow Wilson Award. In 2007, Queen Elizabeth II bestowed upon Shultz the title of Commander of the Royal Victorian Order for her long record of service in assisting royal visitors.

Serving California businesses and communities for more than two decades, A. Robert “Bob” Linscheid has provided extraordinary leadership for public, private and nonprofit organizations on public policy, economic development and other issues critical to California’s economic success.

Linscheid graduated from California State University, Chico in 1976 with a B.A. in public administration and with a master’s degree in public administration in 1978. As an undergraduate, he served as student body president. Since graduation, Linscheid’s service to the CSU has included membership on the CSU Alumni Council (with two terms as president) and a seat on the CSU Board of Trustees from 2005 until 2014.

Prior to his work in San Francisco, Linscheid was the co-founder and managing director of Innovate Northstate, an innovation catalyst organization dedicated to making the North State area of California the most economically competitive rural region in the United States by focusing on innovative companies within targeted industry clusters.

A believer in the community importance of athletics, Linscheid served as general manager of the Chico Heat baseball team from 1996 to 1999, was president of the Western Baseball League from 1999 to 2002 and served as president and board chair of the Chico Outlaws baseball team from 2004 to 2008.

Honors and awards bestowed upon Linscheid include the CSU Chico College of Business Person of the Year, the Western Association of Chamber of Commerce Executives’ Executive of the Year and, three times, recognition by Rotary International as a Paul Harris Fellow.
HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

JEFFREY MALLETT
Doctor of Science

Jeffrey Mallett is a Canadian-born entrepreneur and investor, most widely known as the founding president, COO, director and 12th employee of internet giant Yahoo. Raised in Vancouver, British Columbia, Mallett began his climb to leadership early. When Mallett was 22 years old, he ran sales, marketing and business development for his parents’ telecommunications company, Island Pacific Telephone. Cable and Wireless Communications eventually acquired the company in 1987.

For the past 30 years, Mallett has been an executive, director and active investor in technology, media, sports and entertainment ventures. From 1985 to 1995, he was an executive leading successful technology companies. Mallett was an early employee of Reference Software International, a company started by Don Emery, a San Francisco State University marketing professor at the time. WordPerfect Corporation purchased the company, which developed grammar-checking software. Mallett managed their worldwide consumer division.

From 1995 to 2002, Mallett managed Yahoo’s global workforce of more than 4,000 employees in 27 countries and oversaw Yahoo’s first $4 billion in revenues. Under his leadership, Yahoo grew from a startup with less than six weeks of cash and no revenue to a publicly traded company with a value reaching $135 billion.

In 2002, he founded Mallett Sports and Entertainment LLC (MSE), a diversified global investment and advisory company. MSE ventures include the San Francisco Giants, AT&T Park and Mission Rock Development, Comcast Bay Area Sports Network, the San Jose Giants, Major League Soccer, Vancouver Whitecaps FC, Derby County FC, digital music company SNOCAP Inc., custom apparel company Indochino Inc. and mobile ticketing service Gametime United Inc. Mallett is also a founding investor and limited partner in Version One Ventures and an advisor to Steve Nash Enterprises and Foundation.

Mallett has been recognized with an honorary professorship at the Peter B. Gustavson School of Business at the University of Victoria and as a fellow of the Dobson Centre for Entrepreneurial Studies at McGill University in Montreal.

Mallett lives in the Bay Area with his wife and two daughters.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Participation in today’s 115th Commencement exercises links our graduates and faculty with scholastic antiquity. Many of the rituals seen at this ceremony stem from the European Middle Ages, when the church was the center of learning. At that time, academic gowns were a common form of dress retained by the clergy when the laity adopted more modern styles. The early European universities were founded by the church, and students, being clerics, were obliged to wear the prescribed gown at all times.

All San Francisco State graduates wear special robes of royal purple, one of the University’s official colors. The gown worn at the Commencement ceremony is indicative of the degree being awarded. Bachelor’s gowns have pointed sleeves; master’s gowns have oblong sleeves cut square at the end, with wrist openings; doctoral gowns have bell-shaped sleeves with three velvet bands (symbolizing the third and highest academic degree) and velvet facings to the front. All gowns are designed to be worn closed, unlike many of their European counterparts.

All students awarded bachelor’s degrees wear a mortarboard cap, also of royal purple. On entering the stadium, the tassel is positioned to the right of the cap. During the ceremony, at the moment of graduation, the tassel is moved to the left of the cap, signifying conferral of the bachelor’s degree. Students receiving master’s degrees also wear a purple mortarboard, but with the tassel already positioned on the left of the cap. Students being awarded a doctoral degree wear a black velvet tam.

The size and shape of the academic hood and the width of its velvet edging also help to identify the level of the degree that the wearer has earned. Hoods designating the bachelor’s degree (worn here today only by the students chosen to represent their colleges) are 36 inches; those for the master’s degree are 42 inches; those for the doctoral degree are 48 inches and also include a cape, visible at the side. The shell of the hood is lined with the official color, or colors, of the college or university conferring the degree. San Francisco State University’s are purple and gold. More than one color is often displayed in V-shaped stripes, known as chevrons. The color of the hood’s velvet border indicates the field or discipline in which the degree is granted. SF State’s master’s degree hoods are edged in the following colors:

- Business ................ Drab (light brown)
- Education ....................... Light blue
- Ethnic Studies .................. Crimson
- Health & Social Sciences ....... Gold
- Nursing ......................... Apricot
- Liberal & Creative Arts ......... White
- Science & Engineering .......... Gold

Our faculty have earned degrees at top universities around the nation and the world. As they process into the stadium, their regalia make for a colorful display. The linings of their hoods (and sometimes the color of their gowns) identify the institutions from which they earned their degrees. Leading the Platform Party in the ceremony today is the chair of the Academic Senate, Professor Troi Carleton, who carries the University mace, an ancient symbol of order and authority in both the civic and academic worlds.
MAKING FUTURES HAPPEN
FOR MORE THAN A CENTURY

For 117 years, San Francisco State University has distinguished itself as a vibrant center of scholarship, innovation and community engagement. Founded in 1899 by an act of the California legislature, the San Francisco State Normal School was created to fill the city’s acute need for well-trained, experienced teachers. The school’s first location was a rented two-story building atop Nob Hill. The first graduating class — the class of 1901 — consisted of three dozen students, all women.

Within a decade the normal school earned a solid reputation for its high-caliber graduates, innovative teaching methods and emphasis on practical experience. In the 1920s, the school began offering the Bachelor of Arts degree. When the Great Depression sharply curtailed the need for new teachers, the school expanded its programs to include a full liberal arts curriculum. In 1935, it became San Francisco State College. Its first master’s degree, in education, was offered in 1949.

Enrollment quadrupled in the five years following World War II. To accommodate growing demand, the college moved in 1954 to its present campus near Lake Merced, which now encompasses more than 144 acres. To bring intellectual cohesion to its evolving curriculum, SF State developed the General Education program — a nationally known model requiring all students to take a unified core set of courses. In 1961, the college joined what would become the 23-campus California State University system and in 1974 was renamed San Francisco State University.

Hands-on learning and community engagement have continued to be hallmarks of an SF State education since its first president, Frederic Burk, chose Experientia Docet — Experience Teaches — as the school’s motto. Acting on the principle that learning cannot be isolated from the world in which it is applied, the University partners with the community through many of its classes and a wide range of centers and institutes.

Today, the University has a diverse student body of more than 30,000. The University offers 77 bachelor’s and 63 master’s degrees and an independent doctoral program (Ed.D.). In collaboration with the University of California, the University also offers a Ph.D. in education with a concentration in special education (with UC Berkeley) and joint master’s and doctoral degrees in physical therapy, as well as a joint Doctor of Physical Therapy Science (with UC San Francisco).

University teaching sites include the Romberg Tiburon Center for Environmental Studies in Marin County, the Sierra Nevada Field Campus and the Downtown Campus in San Francisco.

While justifiably renowned as a teaching university, SF State is also associated with outstanding research and scholarly activity in the arts, sciences, business, health, humanities and many other disciplines. The University attracts world-class faculty as well as extensive grants and contracts.
GUIDED BY a long-standing commitment to community service learning and civic engagement, SF State seeks to prepare new generations of principled citizens who act on their beliefs; who volunteer, vote and are active in civic affairs; and who serve as leaders in their communities. Just like the city of which it is a part, SF State is known for valuing activism, civic engagement and service to the community.

SF STATE’S PROUD HISTORY and ongoing commitments to teaching, learning and social justice are showcased in its strategic plan, anchored by five core University values: Courage, Life of the Mind, Equity, Community and Resilience.

THIS COMMITMENT is evidenced in classrooms, studios, laboratories and in the greater community. Increasingly, SF State’s leadership as a values-driven university is recognized nationally. SF State is among a select group of schools in Princeton Review’s Colleges with a Conscience — institutions of higher learning that possess both “an administration committed to social responsibility and a student body actively engaged in serving society.” In addition, the campus was among the first U.S. colleges and universities to meet new classification criteria for community engagement established by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. In 2011, the Corporation for National and Community Service selected SF State to receive its Presidential Award, the highest federal recognition a college or university can receive for its commitment to community service.

SERVICE IS AN INTEGRAL PART of the curriculum. More than 500 courses combine academic study with community involvement.

THE UNIVERSITY’S INFLUENCE can be felt in every neighborhood in San Francisco. SF State faculty monitor plants and wildlife inside the Presidio, while marketing and design students create ads that promote volunteerism and health education students work to combat childhood asthma in Bayview-Hunters Point. Oceanographers monitor water currents in the Bay to help local agencies plan cleanup efforts in the event of an oil spill. Engineering students offer free energy assessments to manufacturing plants, and from the Mission to the Marina, Richmond to South of Market, SF State students are working with the national literacy program Jumpstart to build the reading and learning skills of 3- to 5-year-olds.

MANY GRADUATES carry the spirit of service into their professional careers. They can be found in executive leadership positions at such San Francisco–based nonprofits as the SF-Marin Food Bank and Alive & Free (formerly the Omega Boys Club). The SF State alumni roster includes winners of the prestigious Jefferson Award for Public Service.

SF STATE ALUMNI are well represented in leadership in the city and in state and national capitals. The University’s alumni with public service careers — including Willie Brown Jr., John Burton, Heather Fong, Willie Kennedy, Bill Thomas and George Miller — have represented some of the best and brightest public leadership in the region and nation.

THE STUDENTS GRADUATING TODAY join the legions of accomplished alumni making it happen around the world … and making the world a better place in the process.

Dear Class of 2016,

Congratulations on your incredible achievement.

During your time at the California State University, you and your colleagues faced challenges that tested your character, knowledge, beliefs and skills.

Your faculty pushed you to examine your understanding of the world and to ponder humanity’s most fundamental questions.

Your counselors, advisors, librarians, tutors, coaches and support staff built the environment for you to answer these questions and to be deliberate and consequential in your words and actions.

Your family, friends and colleagues reinforced your drive for success, helping you along your academic path and providing the support required for your accomplishments today.

These people — your champions — deserve our utmost admiration and appreciation, and I know that they join me in celebrating your achievements.

Your hard work and sacrifices will continue to pay dividends far beyond today’s celebration. Your lifetime of successes will lift up you and your family, as well as your community and nation.

Today, you will join a diverse family of CSU alumni that are finding new ways to solve our greatest challenges, educating the next generation of students, fighting for equality and social justice and creating sustainable opportunities for economic prosperity.

And, as a fellow alumnus, I am honored to welcome you to the CSU alumni family, which is more than 3 million strong.

Thank you for all that you have done — and will do — for this university, California and the world.
AUDIENCE NOTES

RULES
Guests who enter the playing field or who throw (or attempt to throw) objects in the stands or onto the field are subject to ejection and criminal prosecution. They will also be held liable for any fines and/or damage.

ELEVATORS AND ESCALATORS
The elevators at the Willie Mays Plaza and 2nd & King entrances provide access to all levels of the park. The elevators at Lefty O’Doul Plaza and Seals Plaza provide access to the Promenade Level only. In addition, at Willie Mays Plaza there is an escalator which will move guests up before the ceremony and change direction after the graduate procession to bring guests down after the ceremony.

FIRST AID
The First Aid Station, located on the Promenade Level behind Section 132, is open during the ceremony to provide evaluation and treatment to guests for minor medical needs. Dignity Health physicians, nurses and emergency medical personnel staff the First Aid Station. King American Ambulance Service is available for medical emergencies.

GUEST SERVICES OFFICE
Guest Services personnel are stationed at the Guest Services Office, located behind Section 119 on the Promenade Level, for wheelchair requests, lost and found items, information about public transportation, lost and found children and parents and a variety of other services. Concierge personnel are available to assist guests on the Virgin America Club and Oracle Suite levels near the Willie Mays Clock Tower elevators.

LIVE STREAMING
The Commencement ceremony will be live-streamed for guests joining us off-site. A link can be found on the Commencement website: commencement.sfsu.edu.

Found items might also be turned in to Ballpark Operations or Guest Services staff. Items will be held for one week. Unclaimed items will be donated to charity. Guests may call Guest Services at 415.972.2156 and leave a detailed description of the lost item, including when and where they think the item was misplaced. Guests may also email lostandfound@sfgiants.com with this information.

We know this is a special day and that families and friends of graduates want to take photographs. Because of access restrictions, however, this is not possible. A professional photography company will be taking photos prior to graduates entering the ballpark. Graduates will receive order forms directly from the company.

RE-ENTERING THE BALLPARK
During Commencement, guests are permitted to leave the ballpark and return. They may exit any gate but must have their hands and tickets stamped for re-entry.
