A MESSAGE FROM THE CHANCELLOR

CALIFORNIA
STATE UNIVERSITY
CHANCELLOR

Mildred García, Ed.D.

Dear Class of 2025,

As we celebrate your accomplishments today, I hope you'll take a moment to consider how much you've changed since you first set foot on campus. In your time at the California State University, you have transformed yourself from someone with big dreams on a quest for knowledge into a person empowered to make limitless contributions to our world.

This transformation was inspired, supported and admired by your family, friends, colleagues and loved ones, who have cheered you on through your academic journey. It was spurred by your faculty, who have helped you develop a critical eye and a creative mind. And it was reinforced by the work of your counselors, advisors, librarians, tutors and coaches, who fostered an encouraging environment for you to persist, thrive and succeed.

You have filled all of us with pride.

You are now part of a vibrant network of well over four million CSU alumni who are powering California, the nation and the world. Together, you will solve our greatest challenges, educate the next generation, fight for democracy and a more just society, and enrich our workforce and communities with your talents.

As you continue on your exciting path forward, please stay connected to your alma mater and to the CSU. I hope you will use your connections — both to your campus and to other CSU alumni — to open new doors of possibility and to make a meaningful impact in your chosen field. I also encourage you to reach back often to support those who aspire to follow in your footsteps.

Today's event is called "commencement" for a reason. It is not an end, but rather the beginning of your next great pursuit. May your hard work and sacrifices lead to happiness, prosperity and deep fulfillment, both in your life and in the lives of those around you.

Congratulations, California State University Class of 2025. We can't wait to see all that you will accomplish.

Sincerely,

Mildred García

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Rob Bonta

Attorney General of California

On April 23, 2021, Rob Bonta was sworn in as the 34th attorney general of California, the first person of Filipino descent and the second Asian American to occupy the position.

Bonta's passion for justice and fairness was instilled in him by his parents, who served on the front lines of some of America's most important social justice movements. Instilling in him the lessons they learned from the United Farm Workers and the civil rights movement, Bonta's parents lit a fire inside him to fight against injustice — to stand up for those who are taken advantage of or harmed. It's why he decided to become a lawyer — to help right historic wrongs and fight for people who have been harmed. He worked his way through college, graduated with honors from Yale University and attended Yale Law School.

In the State Assembly, Bonta enacted nation-leading reforms to inject more justice and fairness into government and institutions. As attorney general, he sees seeking accountability from those who abuse their power and harm others as one of the most important functions of the job. In elected office, he has taken on powerful interests and advanced systemic change — pursuing corporate accountability, standing up for workers, punishing big polluters and fighting racial injustice. He has been a national leader in the fight to transform the criminal justice system, banning private prisons and detention facilities in California, as well as pushing to eliminate cash bail in the state. He has led statewide fights for racial, economic and environmental justice and worked to further the rights of immigrant families, renters and other working Californians.

Prior to serving in the Assembly, Attorney General Bonta worked as a deputy city attorney for the City and County of San Francisco, where he represented the city and county and its employees and fought to protect Californians from exploitation and racial profiling.

Born in Quezon City, Philippines, Bonta immigrated to California with his family as an infant. He is the son of a proud native Filipina mother and a father who taught him the value of public service to his community. He is married to Mia Bonta, and they are the proud parents of three children: Reina, Iliana and Andres.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

Dawn Bohulano Mabalon
Historian, Educator and Author

Dawn Bohulano Mabalon was the premier historian of Filipino American studies and is believed to be the first Filipina American to earn a Ph.D. in American History from Stanford University. Prior to that she received her B.A. in History with a specialization in Asian American Studies in 1994 and her M.A. in Asian American Studies in 1997 from the University of California, Los Angeles.

In her 2013 award-winning book “Little Manila Is in the Heart: The Making of the Filipina/o American Community in Stockton, California,” she examined the rich and vibrant community in which she grew up and where her family continues to live. She also left behind the children’s book “Journey for Justice: The Life of Larry Itliong,” co-written with Gayle Romasanta and illustrated by Andre Sibayan. The book, published posthumously, chronicles the life of Filipino farm labor activist Larry Itliong.

Along with academic contributions, she was the co-founder and board member of the Little Manila Foundation, where she worked for the preservation and revitalization of the Little Manila Historic Site in Stockton. Through her visionary work and leadership, the foundation saved historic buildings from demolition in 2003, and she inspires a generation of youth in her hometown who will continue her legacy.

In 2004, Mabalon joined the SFSU History Department faculty. Students loved her classes, where they not only learned to love history but they came to love learning. Through her dynamic lectures and interactive discussions, her witty humor and commentary and the food she cooked and baked for her students, she touched hearts, minds and stomachs.

In Mabalon’s last statement, she wrote, “I am an historian dedicated to building bridges between the communities about whom I write (Filipino Americans, Asian Americans, immigrants, workers) and the academy. I have devoted my life’s work to sharing the stories of people and communities at the margins of the American story. ... With the humanities and history disciplines under attack, there is no better time to strengthen the work we do as professional historians.”

Mabalon is remembered for the love for Filipina/o America that guided her work and her life. She was a respected historian, author, filmmaker, poet, chef, baker, community leader and activist who leaves behind a far-reaching legacy, grounded in love.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

Tommy Orange
Author and Educator

Tommy Orange is the New York Times bestselling author of the 2018 novel “There There” (Alfred A. Knopf), a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize. His debut novel chronicled the fictional lives of urban Native Americans living in Oakland. In doing so, his book challenged the monolithic image of Native people. “There There” is a constellation of narratives of 12 characters whose lives all converge at an Oakland powwow and explores themes of identity, authenticity and Native history.

His latest novel, “Wandering Stars,” longlisted for the Booker Prize, was published by Alfred A. Knopf in February 2024. This novel, a continuation of his first, follows three generations of a family all the way back to the Sand Creek Massacre of 1864 and later to the Carlisle Indian Industrial School. His book examines the impact of colonization and forced assimilation through his characters.

His novels have been recognized by several organizations. “There There” won the PEN/Hemingway Award, the National Book Critics Circle John Leonard Prize and the Center for Fiction First Novel Prize and was shortlisted for the Andrew Carnegie Medal for Excellence in Fiction.

In 2019, he was honored by SFSU’s Department of Creative Writing with the Gina Berriault Award. The award, named after the late author and beloved faculty member, is given to writers who embody Berriault’s love of storytelling and commitment to supporting emerging writers.

In 2004, Orange received his undergraduate degree in sound engineering from Ex’pression College of Digital Arts in Emeryville. He received his Master of Fine Arts degree at the Institute of American Indian Arts in Santa Fe in 2016. He’s currently a faculty member there.

Orange lives in Oakland with his wife and two sons.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

Ramona Tascoe (B.A., '70)

Physician, Minister and Activist

Ramona Tascoe came to SFSU to pursue a special triple major in Political Science, Sociology and Psychology. But as a result of her fearless commitment to her ideals, she also became an essential part of the University's enduring legacy.

In 1967, Tascoe took part in campus protests after George Murray, a graduate student and part-time English instructor, was suspended because of his activism and outspoken support for equity and accuracy in higher education. Among the protestors' demands: that the University rehire Murray and create a Black Studies Department.

The protests grew into the historic student strike of 1968 that would eventually lead to the creation of the College of Ethnic Studies. But before that victory, there were many intense confrontations — and in the midst of one of them, Tascoe became the first of the student protesters to be arrested.

That was a courageous development for a young woman whose protective father often told her, "Don't talk race ... assimilate." Born in Louisiana, where "Jim Crow" was not a stranger, Tascoe moved with her family to the more hopeful horizons of San Francisco in 1953. Despite her father's advice, Tascoe joined the rapidly emerging Black Student Union, found her voice and grabbed the baton of civil rights and social justice. In the years since, she's continued to forge her own independent path.

Tascoe earned her medical degree from the University of California, San Francisco in 1979. And she wasn't done with higher education there: She later earned both a Master of Public Administration degree from the University of San Francisco and a Master of Divinity degree from Berkeley's Graduate Theological Union, after which she was dually ordained under the American Baptist and Progressive National Baptist ministries.

Though she's practiced as an internal medicine specialist in Oakland for decades, Tascoe has also put her unique mix of skills to work on behalf of communities around the world. She's led medical missions to Kenya, Tanzania, the Democratic Republic of Congo, Angola, India and Sri Lanka. And she's worked extensively with Haiti's Ministry of Health and the University General Hospital of Haiti, that nation's largest public hospital.

In 2018, she was SFSU's Commencement speaker and urged students to put their passions into action. "I call on each of you to actively care about a cause, commit to a cure, devote your time, your talent and your treasure in good conscience and with courage," she said. "Because our nation cannot survive on passive citizenship."

Over the course of nearly 50 years in practice, Tascoe has profoundly impacted the lives of countless individuals and communities by gently illuminating that healing is not merely a science or an art — it is both. She reminds us that within every human experience, there exists a sacred balance between biology and belief, physics and faith, seen and unseen.

BACCALAUREATE HOOD RECIPIENTS

The following students, who have achieved outstanding academic records at San Francisco State University, have been selected to represent the students of their respective colleges. On behalf of their classmates, they have received the symbolic investiture of the hood.

ARABELLA ABAD

*B.A., International Relations, Chinese, German
College of Liberal & Creative Arts*

Arabella Abad embodies the spirit of multilingualism and multiculturalism like few others. Fluent in three languages, Abad has demonstrated an exceptional enthusiasm for language learning and cultural immersion.

Born to Filipino parents, she spent part of her youth living in Germany and Korea. These experiences shaped her global outlook at an early age. At SFSU, Abad pursued a triple major in International Relations, German and Chinese. In 2021, she was admitted to the highly selective SFSU Chinese Flagship Program, a federally funded honors track for intensive Chinese learning. In 2022, she received the Critical Language Scholarship from the U.S. State Department, enabling her to study Chinese at Dalian University of Technology in China.

Following this, Abad studied for a semester at Heidelberg University in Germany, studying International Relations and advanced Chinese simultaneously. In 2023, she earned another distinguished honor, the Boren Scholarship, funding her participation in a year-long capstone program at National Chengchi University in Taiwan. Additionally, she received the Benny and May Chin Scholarship in International Relations and was recently inducted into Phi Sigma Iota, America's oldest foreign-language honors society.

Abad has deeply impressed her professors, no matter which language she spoke with them. Her long-term goal is to attend graduate school and pursue a career either in international education or diplomacy.

PRISCILLY JIREH MEDRANO

*B.A., Speech, Language and Hearing Sciences
Graduate College of Education*

Priscilly Jireh Medrano is a proud first-generation college student from the Bay Area and the oldest daughter in her family. As the child of immigrants, she grew up helping her parents navigate complex institutional systems in the U.S. — an experience that sparked her passion for equity and advocacy. This lifelong commitment to supporting others has shaped her academic journey and career goals.

At SFSU, Medrano found a supportive community through the Educational Opportunity Program and participated in the Prep Médico Program, an initiative focused on addressing health disparities in the Latinx community. It was through this program that she was introduced to the field of audiology, inspiring her to pursue a path focused on bridging gaps in hearing health care and communication access, especially for underserved communities like her own.

Throughout her time at SFSU, Medrano has been active in research and leadership. She served as a research assistant in the Gray Matter Lab, where she provided Spanish-language AbSANT therapy to individuals with aphasia. She also contributes to the SFSU-UCSF Auditory Research Lab, studying how speech recognition in background noise affects individuals with both normal hearing and hearing loss. In addition to her academic and research work, Medrano has served as treasurer of the Student Academy of Audiology, helping to build community and raise awareness of hearing health issues.

Medrano graduates with a B.A. in Speech, Language and Hearing Sciences and a minor in Latina/Latino Studies. She will continue her studies in the Doctor of Audiology (Au.D.) program at Pacific University in Oregon beginning in the fall. She is committed to using her education to advocate for culturally competent, accessible care for all.

BELAYNEH SALILEW

*B.A., Social Work
College of Health & Social Sciences*

Transnational social justice and human rights work have shaped Belayneh Salilew's social work. His volunteer experiences in Ethiopia, where he was born and raised, and the Bay Area greatly influenced his trajectory.

As a high school student in Ethiopia, Salilew worked with SOS Children's Village to run HIV/AIDS awareness-raising programs and programs for orphans and older adults. He also started One Person for One Orphan, a program under the Borderless Charity Association. Since moving to the Bay Area, Salilew has worked as a residential specialist at a foster youth organization and as a service specialist at Momentum for Health, a nonprofit agency providing mental health and substance-use rehabilitation.

After transferring to SFSU in the fall of 2023, he actively participated in both the on-campus and broader community. On campus, he served as president of Phi Alpha Honor Society, Mu Beta Chapter. As a Willie L. Brown, Jr. Fellow, he worked with the San Francisco Department of Homelessness and Supportive Housing to conduct secondary research on unhoused youth to help inform the department's strategic goals. In the spring of 2024, Salilew participated in the National Association of Social Workers' (NASW) Legislative Lobby Days in Sacramento to advocate for bills focused on the social determinants of health, reproductive health of incarcerated persons and the CARE Court Scholarship Program Act. This year, Salilew will lead a legislative team in lobbying for bills addressing priority issues for NASW's California chapter. His achievements have been recognized by the San Francisco Foundation Black Excellence Scholarship.

For his capstone project, he focused on youth homelessness in San Francisco and why some youth choose to stay on the streets rather than use shelters. After graduation, Salilew hopes to pursue a master's degree and become a licensed social worker focused on both micro and macro social work practices.

LEAH SELK

*B.A., Labor and Employment Studies
Lam Family College of Business*

Leah Selk will graduate Summa Cum Laude with a major in Labor and Employment Studies and a minor in Spanish. Since transferring to SFSU, she has designed an interdisciplinary degree with a focus on social justice, equity and diversity. Through SFSU Abroad, she spent a semester in Buenos Aires in 2024, an experience that deepened her international perspective and commitment to global fairness.

Selk received her A.A. at Peralta Community College, then studied at Sonoma State University before transferring to SFSU. At Sonoma State, Selk conducted interviews to design culturally relevant therapy materials for Latina/o couples.

After being diagnosed with autism, Selk became passionate about disability awareness on campus. She connected with disability resources at SFSU, which helped her succeed academically and personally. Selk believes her autism has enabled her to view political and social issues from different perspectives. She has pushed to make educational spaces at SFSU more welcoming to students with learning and other differences.

Selk is a lifelong learner of social justice and actively participates in community events. She understands the significance of community involvement. She has testified before numerous city councils, arguing for a mental health response team and a ban on police holds that cause positional asphyxia, among other things, to better our communities. She remains committed to learning from others. She has also been an LGBTQ activist who has participated in events uplifting the queer community at SFSU and elsewhere through community building and issue amplification.

Consistent with SFSU's core values, Selk believes that diversity is humanity's strongest asset. She is guided by her belief in fairness and equity, and after graduation, she plans to work for organizations that promote both labor and housing rights.

EUREKA SAPIERA SORIANO

*B.A., Race and Resistance Studies, Sociology
College of Ethnic Studies*

Eureka Sapiera Soriano is a second-generation Filipino American student who transferred to SFSU from Skyline College, where she earned associate degrees in Social Justice Studies and Sociology. She graduates from SFSU with a B.A. in Race and Resistance Studies and Sociology and a minor in Education.

During her time at SFSU, Soriano has been deeply committed to community engagement and student support. She taught Filipino American Studies to fourth and fifth graders at Longfellow Elementary School through the Pin@y Educational Partnerships, helping build meaningful relationships with students and families in the Excelsior District. On campus, she worked as an Access, Relevance and Community peer mentor and teaching assistant, where she supported fellow students through academic guidance, led class discussions and facilitated workshops rooted in social justice and student empowerment.

Navigating higher education as a woman of color from a working-class immigrant family has been a journey filled with both challenges and growth. Through her experiences, especially within the College of Ethnic Studies, Soriano has found healing, love and a strong sense of community that has shaped her academic and professional path.

She hopes to continue giving back by working with youth and serving communities like her own. After graduation, she plans to gain more classroom experience as a substitute teacher while preparing for the social science CSET exam. Her long-term goal is to earn a teaching credential and pursue graduate studies in education and ethnic studies, with the vision of becoming a public high school ethnic studies teacher in San Francisco.

Soriano's work is guided by a deep commitment to equity, cultural empowerment and educational justice — principles that have grounded her journey and will continue to shape her future.

DENISE LOUISE STEFFEN

B.S., Civil Engineering

College of Science & Engineering

From the moment she arrived at SFSU, Denise Louise Steffen was determined to do more than just earn a degree. She wanted to find purpose, community and a way to give back. She is a first-generation college student earning her undergraduate degree in Civil Engineering and will be continuing as an SF State Scholar to complete her master's degree with an emphasis in Structural Engineering.

She is working with Associate Professor Jenna Wong on a project investigating the structural dynamics of buildings with vegetated roof systems. This cutting-edge research blends sustainability with structural engineering and pushed Steffen to independently study steel design, learn programs for structural analysis and collaborate with industry advisors. She is also conducting sensitivity analyses to assess the performance of these structures under various natural hazard scenarios. Her outstanding research earned her a spot as an SFSU representative at the CSU Research Competition in Humboldt.

Steffen's leadership highlights her passion to foster and impact the sense of community on campus. As a student assistant in the Engineering stockroom, she learned the ins and outs of supporting her department behind the scenes. With encouragement from mentors, Steffen became the professional outreach chair for the American Society of Civil Engineers and treasurer for the Engineering honor society Tau Beta Pi, where she has played an integral role in revitalizing the SFSU Alpha Gamma chapter.

Steffen's story is shaped by her personal journey. She is in long-term recovery from addiction and actively sponsors other women on their path to rebuilding their lives. Her experiences have instilled empathy, determination and responsibility — qualities that influence her relationship with colleagues and her professional passion. Steffen will continue her education in graduate school and hopes to become a licensed structural engineer who contributes to a future where sustainability and resilience are intertwined.

GRADUATE HOOD RECIPIENTS

The following students, who have achieved outstanding academic records at San Francisco State University, have been selected to represent the students of their respective colleges. On behalf of their classmates, they have received the symbolic investiture of the hood.

RUDOLPH GEORGE HERRERA

M.A., Equity and Social Justice Education

Graduate College of Education

Rudolph George Herrera has spent over two decades supporting underrepresented students as a college advisor across the San Francisco Bay Area. He serves as the transitional support coordinator for the Educational Opportunity Program (EOP) at SFSU. As both an alumnus of the U.S. Department of Education's Upward Bound college preparatory program and a proud EOP college graduate, Herrera brings a deeply personal perspective to his work, grounded in his own experiences navigating higher education as a first-generation student.

Throughout his career, Herrera has guided countless students in local public schools and actively contributed to community organizations focused on educational equity and access. His dedication extends to the professional sphere, where he has presented at conferences and participated in initiatives addressing student retention, outreach, equity and inclusion in higher education.

Herrera is graduating with an M.A. in Equity and Social Justice Education from the Department of Equity, Leadership Studies and Instructional Technologies at SFSU. His research examines the factors that influence admission and retention for first-generation college students, offering critical insights into the support systems that enable student success and degree completion.

Through his graduate studies and leadership within EOP, Herrera continues to champion educational access and advocate for systemic change. His work reflects an unwavering commitment to uplifting first-generation students and advancing equity across the educational landscape.

PATRA HOLMES

*M.S. Chemistry (Biochemistry)
College of Science & Engineering*

A first-generation college student, Patra Holmes exemplifies the transformative impact SFSU can have on an individual. Holmes' 14-year university journey — marked by determination and perseverance — earned her multiple degrees: first dual bachelor's degrees (one in Biochemistry, another in Cell and Molecular Biology with a minor in Computer Applications), now a graduate degree in Chemistry with a concentration in Biochemistry and a Graduate Opportunities in Learning Data Science (GOLD) Certificate.

Holmes discovered her true calling in research. She not only excelled as a scientist, but she became a dedicated mentor and advocate for students who did not initially see themselves as scientists. She created inclusive spaces for students through her work with Women in Science and Engineering (WISE) and the Society for Advancement of Chicanos/Hispanics and Native Americans in Science (SACNAS). She also recruited and trained numerous students in biophysics research.

In her graduate research, Holmes engineered novel protein probes to investigate how molecular crowding affects protein solubility in cells, offering insight into the molecular basis of neurodegenerative diseases such as Alzheimer's disease. She also advanced tools for studying cellular biophysics by contributing to the development of a laser-based polarization technique for measuring protein diffusion in living cells. While at SFSU, she earned the Data Science and Machine Learning for Biotechnology certificate, participated in the Promoting Inclusivity in Computing program and has been awarded several scholarships and fellowships.

Holmes is pursuing her Ph.D. at Columbia University, and she continues to use her position to positively impact others. She is conducting outreach to local middle schoolers with the Girls' Science Day Program, represents her cohort in the Graduate Student Council and plans to join the Student Workers of Columbia Union Committee.

MANUEL LOPEZ

*M.A., Family and Consumer Sciences
College of Health & Social Sciences*

A first-generation college student and child of immigrant farmworkers, Manuel Lopez navigated complex academic systems, financial aid, employment and housing without family guidance. Having experienced food insecurity himself, he understands the importance of community nutrition resources and is dedicated to advocating for and increasing awareness of these programs among his patients. His interest in nutrition began when he realized that his parents, who had chronic diseases like diabetes, did not have access to health care and lacked the financial resources and knowledge to access healthy foods.

As a Clinical Nutrition undergraduate at UC Davis, Lopez worked multiple jobs, including as a tutor supporting others' education and as a College Corps fellow collaborating with initiatives to reduce food insecurity and increase access to healthy foods. At SFSU, Lopez completed a 10-month dietetic internship providing nutrition services to at-risk populations. During this time, he worked with Meals on Wheels, a nonprofit organization reducing food insecurity and health disparities, and a hospital providing care for adults and children. Lopez also worked as a dietetic technician throughout the internship and graduate school.

Despite a heavy academic workload, internship hours and employment, Lopez always performed above expectations in internship rotations and was entrusted with higher-level responsibilities than typically given to interns. Lopez's work addressed the nutritional needs of premature and high-risk infants in a neonatal intensive care unit. His professors say he exemplifies the successful SFSU student, shown through his work ethic, determination, resilience, calm demeanor, humbleness, empathy and passion for working with the underserved.

After completing his master's degree, Lopez began working as clinical dietitian providing medical nutrition therapy for hospitalized patients.

LORISA-ANN RENEE SALVATIN

*MFA, Broadcast and Electronic Communication Arts
College of Liberal & Creative Arts*

LorisAnn Renee Salvatin is a storyteller. While she has the artistry to entertain and perform, her true passion lies in collaborating with others to uncover and curate honest, heartfelt and compelling narratives. At the heart of her endeavors lies connecting meaningfully with others, and she has dedicated her academic and creative practices to understanding how storytelling has the power to shape communities and culture.

As a graduate student, Salvatin has focused on studying the intersections between sonic narratives, aesthetics and sociocultural perspectives. She has been active on SFSU's student-run radio station, KSFS, hosting several special programs, directing and making other contributions. In addition, she has taught audio production courses in the Broadcast and Electronic Communication Arts Department, guiding students in exploring the connections between media theory, hands-on production and their lived experiences.

As Salvatin moves forward in her career in media arts and education, she hopes to continue inspiring students to think critically, create boldly and reflect deeply on the media they produce and consume.

PHAN QUAY SU

M.S., Accountancy

Lam Family College of Business

Phan Quay Su was born and raised in a small village in Vietnam, where she faced gender inequity. There were limited professional and academic opportunities available to women, especially within higher education. These limitations hindered her growth both academically and professionally. Instead of letting these challenges defeat her, they motivated her to achieve academic excellence, break down barriers and provide greater support to her local community.

As an international, first-generation college student, Su maintained a high grade point average while balancing multiple leadership roles and extracurricular class activities. While at SFSU, she was the treasurer for Beta Alpha Psi (BAP), an international honor society for accounting, finance and information systems. She actively participated in professional events like weekly BAP technical presentations, Meet the Firms and the BAP Annual Meeting in Las Vegas (2023).

She volunteered significant hours to the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program for four years, providing free basic tax services to low-income families, individuals with disabilities, the elderly, F-1 and J-1 international students and individuals with limited English proficiency. During her tenure with VITA, she progressed from serving as a volunteer tax preparer to becoming the site manager and site coordinator.

Su was an accounting tutor with the University's Tutoring & Academic Support Center (TASC), helping students develop a strong academic foundation through effective study strategies. She was the recipient of multiple awards including the International Student/Associated Students Scholarship, the Paul Wiese Memorial Scholarship, the Marcum Student Scholarship Fund and the Martinelli Family Scholarship.

Throughout her time at SFSU, Su developed communication, leadership and organization skills. After completing her M.S. in Accountancy, she plans to obtain a Certified Public Accountant license and work in the area of tax accounting with a public company or nonprofit organization.

LUSEANE ANGA AE FONU TUTOE

M.A., Ethnic Studies

College of Ethnic Studies

In 2023, Luseane Anga ae Fonu Tutoe earned a B.A. in Sociology with a minor in Critical Pacific Islands and Oceania Studies (CPIOS) at SFSU. She returned to SFSU and is now graduating with an M.A. in Ethnic Studies.

A Tongan Pacific Islander scholar, Tutoe grounds her work in the values of an Indigenous Pacific Islander lens. Before coming to SFSU, she struggled to find institutional spaces that supported her full identity as both a Pacific Islander and an academic. Through her experiences in sociology and CPIOS classrooms, she discovered a deep connection to the field of ethnic studies.

Tutoe's graduate research centers on the navigational wealth cultivated by Pacific Islander students and faculty in the Bay Area, reframing harmful narratives and uplifting the community's resilience and knowledge systems. Her work challenges stigma and emphasizes the strength found in Pacific Islander educational journeys.

At SFSU, Tutoe has served the campus in multiple roles, including as a CPIOS research intern, a member of Associated Students' Marketing & Communications Team and a leader in the Pacific Islander Student Association (PISA). She has helped organize events celebrating Pasifika lives, culture and scholarship.

Among her proudest moments are planning the AAPI mural celebrations, interviewing students and faculty for the Pasifika in Focus campaign and "getting into good trouble" on the picket lines. Tutoe was also honored as the 2024 Graduate Student of the Year by the Division of Student Life at the Alli's Awards.

Tutoe credits CPIOS and its faculty with leaving a lasting impact on her academic and personal journey. She plans to carry that legacy forward through teaching at the community college level and continuing to uplift Pacific Islander communities in all that she does.

ABOUT SAN FRANCISCO STATE UNIVERSITY

For 126 years, San Francisco State University has distinguished itself as a vibrant center of scholarship, innovation and community engagement. Though it began as a school for local educators, today its nearly 300,000 graduates are leaders in science, business, public service, journalism and the arts — virtually every sphere of activity — around the globe.

FOUNDED IN 1899 by an act of the California legislature, the San Francisco State Normal School was created to fill the city's acute need for well-trained, experienced teachers. The school's first location was a rented two-story building atop Nob Hill. The first graduating class — the class of 1901 — consisted of three dozen students, all women. Within a decade the normal school earned a solid reputation for its high-caliber graduates, innovative teaching methods and emphasis on practical experience. In the 1920s, the school began offering the bachelor of arts degree. When the Great Depression sharply curtailed the need for new teachers, the school expanded its programs to include a full liberal arts curriculum. In 1935, it became San Francisco State College. Its first master's degree, in education, was offered in 1949.

ENROLLMENT QUADRUPLED in the five years following World War II. To accommodate growing demand, the college moved in 1954 to its present campus near Lake Merced, which now encompasses more than 140 acres. To bring intellectual cohesion to its evolving curriculum, San Francisco State developed the General Education program — a nationally known model requiring all students to take a unified core set of courses. In 1961, the college joined what would become the 23-campus California State University system and in 1974 was renamed San Francisco State University.

TODAY THE UNIVERSITY has a diverse student body of more than 22,000. The University offers numerous degrees and certifications: bachelor's degrees in 76 academic areas with an additional 47 areas of concentration; master's degrees in 64 academic areas with an additional 31 areas of concentration; a Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) in Educational Leadership, a Ph.D. in Education with a concentration in Special Education; a Clinical Doctorate of Physical Therapy (D.P.T.) jointly with University of California, San Francisco; 15 credential programs and 50 certificate programs. While justifiably renowned as a teaching university, SFSU is also associated with outstanding research and scholarly activity in the arts, sciences, business, health, humanities and many other disciplines. The University attracts world-class faculty as well as extensive grants and contracts for cutting-edge research.

SFSU'S REACH EXTENDS far beyond its Lake Merced campus, as well. Located in the forests near the North Yuba River, the Sierra Nevada Field Campus gives students an immersive opportunity for learning about biological diversity, geosciences, hydrology, astronomy and more. And SFSU's College of Professional & Global Education offers a variety of continuing education courses, academic credit certificates and professional development certificates designed to advance careers and expand opportunities.

THE UNIVERSITY also reaches out through its long-standing commitment to community service. Hands-on learning and engaged citizenship have been hallmarks of an SFSU education since its first president, Frederic Burk, chose Experientia Docet — Experience Teaches — as the school's motto. Acting on the principle that learning cannot be isolated from the world in which it is applied, the University partners with the community through many of its classes and a wide range of centers and institutes, including the Health Equity Institute, the Marian Wright Edelman Institute and the Veteran Documentary Corps. SFSU's Institute for Civic and Community Engagement was launched to connect students, staff and faculty members with service opportunities that strengthen both their skills and the surrounding communities.

AS A RESULT of these efforts, SFSU's leadership as a values-driven institution is widely recognized. SFSU's proudest achievement, however, remains the thousands of graduates who are putting the skills, insights and ideals nurtured at the University to work. New graduates will further the impact of these legions of accomplished alumni by putting their passion into action wherever they go — making the world a better place in the process.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

PARTICIPATION IN today's 124th Commencement exercise links our graduates and faculty with scholastic antiquity. Many of the rituals seen at this ceremony stem from the European Middle Ages, when the church was the center of learning. At that time, academic gowns were a common form of dress retained by the clergy when the laity adopted more modern styles. The early European universities were founded by the church, and students, being clerics, were obliged to wear the prescribed gown at all times.

ALL SAN FRANCISCO STATE graduates wear special robes of royal purple, one of SFSU's official colors. The gown worn at the Commencement ceremony is indicative of the degree being awarded. Bachelor's gowns have pointed sleeves; master's gowns have oblong sleeves cut square at the end, with wrist openings; and doctoral gowns have bell-shaped sleeves with three velvet bands (symbolizing the third and highest academic degree) and velvet facings to the front. All gowns are designed to be worn closed, unlike many of their European counterparts.

ALL STUDENTS awarded bachelor's degrees wear a mortarboard cap, also of royal purple. On entering the stadium, the tassel is positioned to the right of the cap. During the ceremony, at the moment of graduation, the tassel is moved to the left of the cap, signifying conferral of the bachelor's degree. Students receiving master's degrees also wear a purple mortarboard, but with the tassel already positioned on the left of the cap. Students being awarded a doctoral degree wear a black velvet tam.

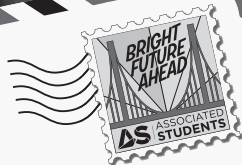

THE SIZE AND SHAPE of the academic hood and the width of its velvet edging also help to identify the level of the degree that the wearer has earned. Hoods designating the bachelor's degree (worn here today only by the students chosen to represent their colleges) are 36 inches; those for the master's degree are 42 inches; those for the doctoral degree are 48 inches and also include a cape, visible at the side. The shell of the hood is lined with the official color, or colors, of the college or university conferring the degree. SFSU's are purple and gold. More than one color is often displayed in V-shaped stripes, known as chevrons. The color of the hood's velvet border indicates the field or discipline in which the degree is granted. SFSU's master's degree hoods are edged in the following colors:

Business	Drab (light brown)
Education	Light blue
Ethnic Studies	Crimson
Health & Social Sciences	Gold
Nursing	Apricot
Public Health	Salmon
Liberal & Creative Arts	White
Science & Engineering	Gold

OUR FACULTY have earned degrees at top universities around the nation and the world. As they process into the stadium, their regalia make for a colorful display. The linings of their hoods (and sometimes the color of their gowns) identify the institutions from which they earned their degrees. Leading the Platform Party in the ceremony today is the chair of the Academic Senate, Professor Jackson Wilson, who carries the University mace, an ancient symbol of order and authority in both the civic and academic world.

If there have been any errors or omissions, please accept our sincerest apologies. Corrections should be directed to the Registrar's Office at 415.338.2350.

AUDIENCE NOTES

RULES

Guests who enter the playing field or who throw (or attempt to throw) objects in the stands or onto the field are subject to ejection and criminal prosecution. They will also be held liable for any fines and/or damage.

ELEVATORS AND ESCALATORS

The elevators at the Willie Mays Plaza and 2nd Street Plaza provide access to all levels of the park. The elevators at Lefty O'Doul Plaza and Seals Plaza provide access to the Promenade Level only. In addition, at Willie Mays Plaza there is one escalator which will move guests up before the ceremony and change direction after the graduate procession to bring guests down after the ceremony.

FIRST AID

The American Medical Response (AMR) First Aid Station, located on the Promenade Level behind Section 132, is open during the ceremony to provide evaluation and treatment to guests for minor medical needs. UCSF physicians, nurses and emergency medical personnel are based in the AMR First Aid Station. AMR Ambulance Service is available for medical emergencies.

GUEST SERVICES OFFICE

Guest Services personnel are available at the Guest Services Desk, located behind home plate on the Promenade Level, for wheelchair requests, lost and found items, information about public transportation, stroller check, lost or found children and parents, and a variety of other services. Concierge personnel are available to assist guests on the Club and Suite levels, near the Willie Mays elevators.

LIVESTREAMING

The Commencement ceremony will be livestreamed for guests joining us remotely. A link can be found on the Commencement website: commencement.sfsu.edu.

LOST AND FOUND

If a guest has lost an item during the ceremony, they should contact the nearest Ballpark Operations or Guest Services staff member for assistance. Found items might also be turned in to Ballpark Operations or Guest Services staff. Items will be held for one week. Unclaimed items will be donated to charity. To report or claim a lost item during or after an event, please visit the Lost and Found section of the Giants website at mlb.com/giants/ballpark/lost-and-found.

PHOTOGRAPHS

We know this is a special day and that families and friends of graduates want to take photographs. Because of access restrictions, this is not possible. A professional photography company will be taking photos prior to graduates entering the ballpark. Graduates will receive order forms directly from the company.

Commencement occurs in a public venue and will be recorded and photographed for distribution through various SFSU outlets. All audience members (or parents/guardians of minors attending the event) acknowledge that they may appear on these recordings and photographs by virtue of their attendance at or participation in Commencement, and agree to SFSU and their partners use of photographed or videotaped materials through the University's websites, applications and other channels of communication.
